

2014

Dear Friends of Helping Hand-Me-Downs:

2014 was such an exciting year for us! We settled in quickly to our new University City location. It is so nice to have a place of our own! We can serve each family faster and more effectively as a result of this organized space that is jam packed with donations.

Also in 2014, HHMD exceeded our service goal of 1,500 by serving over 1,700 children and families. This was only possible because of our strong volunteer network. Volunteers donate over 200 hours monthly! This smart and passionate group is essential to Helping Hand-Me-Downs' ability to carry out our mission in St Louis everyday.

Here's to serving children in 2015 and beyond!

Stephanie Williamson
Executive Director

Helping Hand-Me-Downs is so incredibly helpful to the families I work with. Parents are often struggling to provide clothes and other items their children need, let alone clothes for themselves or household items. Helping Hand-Me-Downs provides all of these things. I'm so appreciative for the individuals involved with this program. They are compassionate and committed to serving families in need, and truly a blessing to our community!

1,724 children and families served

I see so many loving mothers and families who are simply unable to make ends meet in getting the needed items for their newborn babies. I feel significantly more comfortable knowing Helping Hand-Me-Downs is available to help fill in the gaps and give my mothers and babies the great start they deserve. - Women and Infants Social Worker, Barnes-Jewish Hospital

Helping Hand-Me-Downs provided my children and me with a sense of hope. They gave us clothes, coats, shoes and even beds and toys. Now my children can sleep comfortably at night and walk in clean clothes. I'm happy to know that there are still some good people left in this world. When I walked in the center, I was greeted with open arms. No one judged me and the place was beautiful and clean - they were all so polite and eager to help. No one is perfect in this great big world and they see and understand that. I appreciate being given the opportunity to get to know them and all that they have accomplished and helped me and many like me to achieve ... to have a fresh start. I even have an interview coming up :) Thank you, Helping Hand-Me-Downs! I hope you continue to reach your goals! - A client
