Sunshine, flowers, and the sounds of the peeps are finally here. For many of us that also means Spring cleaning. Preparing our environment is not an easy task but it is important for our family. As adults it is our responsibility to support the role of our family by creating and maintaining our environment.

In our classrooms, our teachers are trained to prepare an environment. Our students know where everything goes and they know how everything works. At home we need to make sure our child also know where things go and how they work. This is not a process of labeling and limiting but instead of process of learning routine by performing and observing activities.

Summer is a great opportunity for students to enjoy a simple garden. Caring for plants and raising vegetables helps them to not only observe nature but it ends with an opportunity to prepare a healthy meal or snack. This summer, we are planting several gardens at school. If your family does not have a garden area we welcome you to come and help to care for ours!

Montessori encourages us to develop intrinsic value for our work. While some prefer to use rewards and merit-based privileges, the most meaningful incentive comes from a sense of pride. Encouraging dedication and commitment is the best incentive we can offer as adults. Service to others can be demonstrated at very early ages. Many families begin this with simple tasks of fetching a babies bottle or diaper. As our children grow we need to continue to find ways to serve others and to allow them to observe us doing it also.

If you are interested in helping us with our gardens, keeping our new landscaping watered, working on our trails, or helping us with projects to get our playground and school ready for 2019/20, we really need your help. Your gifts of time, labor, materials, and cash are very helpful. We have big plans and many needs.
