✓ BATH TIME EMBOSSED

Bette's new bath and washbasin collection, launched this month, brings a sculptural expression to the contemporary bathroom. Statement geometrics on the outside coupled with pared-back, ergonomic interiors make for the perfect bathing experience for those with an eye for design. Pleasingly tangible both inside and out. From £1,418, stockists include C.P. Hart, 103-105 Regent's Park Road, NW1 0ZQ 7586 9856; cphart.co.uk

▲ HIT THIS: ARTEMEST.COM

When it comes to the finest handmade décor, there's no denying that Italians do it best. Founded by Ippolita Rostagno and Marco Credendino, who share a passion for bringing luxury Italian crafts to an international audience, Artemest is our new interiors obsession. An online treasure trove of over 7,000 hand-crafted products including furniture, lighting, décor and gifts by Italy's most talented and celebrated designers, it is irresistible.

✓ DESIGNER LOVE-IN

Fine furniture makers Jonathan Charles are branching out with a series of exciting partnerships that promise an invigorating new dynamic. One such collaboration is with doyennes of wonderfully whimsical fabrics and wallpaper, Elli Popp. The brand have created a beautiful botanical patterned silk fabric to rework a Jonathan Charles classic: the Bamboo Breeze Regency style bench makes the perfect summertime statement piece. £4,349 (jonathancharlesfurniture.com)

> BAGS OF STYLE

Forget tog ratings and packed down sizes, practicality went out of the window the moment we saw these statement sleeping bags from London-based fashion designer Leah Nicholls. Inspired by catwalk prints, each Sleeping Beauties bag - available in single and double sizes - is made from 100 per cent cotton; boasts a concealed inner pocket for phone, loose change and keys; and comes with a matching pillowcase and eye mask. Not the outdoorsy type? We think they make gorgeous throws, too. Single, £64.99 and double, £139.99 (sleepingbagbeauties.com)
