

PIKE & SUTTON

Both Patrice Pike and Wayne Sutton spent a decade touring independently and with iconic jam bands such as Widespread Panic, Blues Traveler, The Dave Matthews Band and the Allman Brothers. Their mutual appreciation for seminal '60s and '70s hard rock and timeless funk, blues, R&B, world and roots music infuses their improvisation and music exploration tendencies. "We've been able to experiment with all these styles of music together over the years," Pike said, "and maintain a consistently unique sound based on Sutton's guitar style and my soul influence amid the eclectic range of music."

Janet Varnum - The Ark Magazine

"Pike is one of the finest contemporary rock singers in America."
