REGISTRATION ESSENTIAL FOR SECURITY AND CATERING

The UK is a world leader in life science research. Yet many breakthroughs are lost in translation from preclinical animal models to humans. There is now a tremendous opportunity to bridge the translational 'valley of death' with human relevant technologies. It is time to focus on the human.

WHO WE ARE

The Alliance for Human Relevant Science is an inclusive collaboration of likeminded companies, organisations and individuals. Working together, we will accelerate innovation and create positive change.

OUR AIMS

- Support better science for better health
- Save lives – human and animal – through improved safety and efficacy testing of medicines and other chemicals
- Save money through more relevant research

JOIN US ON 8TH FEBRUARY TO DISCOVER THE BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP, INCLUDING:

- Improve the productivity of your research by getting access to the latest knowledge
- Find collaborators and partners to help you take advantage of the commercial opportunities created by the shift away from animal based research
- Get advance notice of funding and grant opportunities
