TIMELY ALERTS:

CONVENTION PLANNING MEETINGS are scheduled - we need help from all the clubs to make OUR convention a success!! The next meetings will be held May 14 and June 3, with a possibility of additional meetings being scheduled. Meetings will usually start at 7:00 pm with opportunity to buy food and socialize starting at 6:30. Contact Mary Olhausen at President@nwskiers.org for current information about convention planning meetings.

Sheri Parshall is in charge of signing up volunteers for the Convention, and there are LOTS of ways that YOU can help! Contact Sheri at cougskier@aol.com. Note that after Convention NWSCC will be receiving money from FWSA for acting as the host convention, and that NWSCC will share those funds among the clubs based upon the number of volunteers from each club.

Sheri Parshall will also be taking names of people who want to run for an office with NWSCC - see Elections (inside this newsletter). The officers to be elected for NWSCC will include President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer, and two Directors at Large (other Directors will be appointed by the newly elected board). Note that Mary Olhausen will not be running for re-election as President and Dave Rasmusen will not run for Vice President. This is a prime opportunity for anyone with an interest in helping to run the Council to run for office!! Please consider it! You can ask questions of Mary or Sheri.

FWSA CONVENTION 2014 is just around the corner, NWSCC is the host council, and we have a VERY special deal for our member clubs who have paid their dues this year (non-dues-paying charitable member organizations are included!): NWSCC will reimburse your club for the cost of ONE voting delegate registration ($154) after Convention as long as your club has at least one other voting delegate. (It's BOGO time!) This special offer is in addition to the FWSA's "six pack" program which would rebate your club one registration if your club has at least six delegates who participate). Your delegates must actually participate in Convention activities, including the caucus on Saturday afternoon where candidates are introduced, and must participate in the voting on Sunday morning, before you will be able to receive the reimbursement. So sign up before May 9 and get the best rate on registration!!

Saturday morning brings us the Travel Expo, where industry and delegates will meet to talk about club travel. Saturday also offers the Multi-Media Presentation with our keynote speaker, as well as Public Affairs and Snowsports Leadership Academy sessions. Saturday night erupts for the real Volcanic Paradise. We'll have a live band this year. Northwest Ski Club Council guarantees you'll dance your flip-flops off to the sounds of Thrillride. Yes, we said flip-flops! Note that FWSA has a special "6-pack" incentive for clubs: if 6 members of the same club register for convention (both voting and non-voting delegates) and all attend, after the convention FWSA will return one registration fee to the club. AND this will be for EACH set of 6 registrations from your club!

Far West Ski Foundation Sets Sights for 2014: Members, industry partners and friends of the Association are the principal, historic and continuing donors to the Far West Ski Foundation, which in turn supports, through grants, some very important and high-profile programs. The Foundation acts on behalf of organized snow sports and provides a convenient avenue for tax-deductible contributions to athletic scholarships, women's ski jumping, adaptive skiing and rehabilitation and education. The Foundation provided over $10,000 in grants in 2013. We'd like to enhance our scholarship grants for promising young skiers "on the way up" in 2014. The Women's Ski Jumping Team will start a rebuilding process. We had great response to the Vail Veterans Program for injured military skiers and to the Snowbasin Adaptive Sports Foundation, and we would like to increase these grants. Our education and ski history mission will soon be consumed by the new Squaw Valley Museum. With support from our traditional friends, we hope to top that $10,000 this year---the Foundation's 50th YEAR. Contributions may be made through the web page: farwestskifoundation.org.

WOULD YOUR CLUB LIKE TO EARN A COMP ON ANY FWSA SKI TRIP? All you need to do is to bring 30 people, and the comp is yours to do with as you please. This might be shared if more than one club with in-club trip leaders has a total of 30 participants. This would also give you more input into future ski weeks that FWSA plans.

UPCOMING 2014 CHARITABLE EVENTS

Mark your calendar now for charitable events that NWSCC clubs have supported every year, as participants, volunteers, and donors:

April 12, 2014 Ski to Defeat ALS, Mt. Hood Meadows, a fundraiser for ALS (Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis, commonly known as Lou Gehrig's Disease), which is a progressive neurodegenerative disease that slowly robs a person of the ability to walk, speak, swallow and, eventually, breathe. Fred Noble, who is living with ALS himself, is the local spokesperson. In the past two years, they have been able to collectively raise over $330,000, and are hoping that this third year will bring the total raised to half a million dollars in the fight against ALS. The monies from this event bring hands on services to local families living with this disease and also fund research. Go to skitodefeats.org for more information. See flier on newsletter page.

From March FWSA NEWS:

Taos Ski Valley Purchased: The founding Blake family has sold Taos Ski Valley to a conservationist based in New York City. Taos was the last of New Mexico's founding-family-owned resorts to be sold. Immediately following the announcement, Taos released news of the first new terrain expansion and lift projects for the 2014-2015 season, which will increase the mountain's advanced and expert lift-service terrain by 50%. The Kachina Peak area, with a summit at 12,450 feet, will be lift-accessed for the first time ever. The area was previously accessible only by hiking up. It provides superb scenic views.

2014 Ski and Snowboard Hall of Fame Inductees: Six athletes and sport builders have been elected to the U.S. Ski and Snowboard Hall of Fame for their contributions to the sport. Honorees include big mountain skier Scot Schmidt, freestyle pioneer and world champion John Clendenin, 2006 Olympic moguls bronze medalist Toby Dawson, freestyle aerials champion Kris Feddersen, globally acclaimed ski film producer Joe Jay Jalbert (Far West Warren Miller Award Recipient in 2005), and ski show pioneer Jerry Simon (Far West Snow Sports Builder Award Recipient in 2008). The six will be formally inducted into the Hall of Fame at a ceremony to be held in Park City, Utah on Saturday, April 5.

HELI-SKIING GUIDE CAUGHT IN AVALANCHE: A 31-year-old Bend, Oregon native heli-ski guide, Aaron Karitis, was buried in an avalanche on Saturday, March 15, in an Alaskan back country area known as Kicking Horse Valley. Aaron was a very experienced heli-ski guide with Southeast Alaska Backcountry Skiing Adventure (SEABA) and was flown up 4,000 feet on the mountain with four clients to ski down. He was finishing his condition-check precautions when the slide was triggered. His four clients and fellow guides were not caught in the avalanche and were able to rescue him because he was wearing a locator beacon. Aaron was buried under 7 feet of snow for about twenty minutes and was unconscious when found. Unfortunately, Aaron passed away on March 17th from his injuries. He was to have been one of our guest speakers at this year's convention. For anyone lucky enough to meet this incredible young man, he was truly a shining star.

This avalanche followed one, 30 feet deep, which hit the High Campbell chairlift, the highest of 10 chairlifts, at Crystal Mountain Resort on Mount Rainier, Washington on March 11. The avalanche was intentionally triggered by the Ski Patrol, who threw a 40-pound explosive on unstable snow as a safety precaution on a slope known as "The Throne" in the High Campbell basin. "That got a bigger result than any of us anticipated" stated Tiana Enger, Crystal Mountain's marketing director. It brought down more snow than expected and wiped out a chairlift. Luckily, no one was injured. The area had been closed, and the explosion was set off at 4:45 p.m. Monday after the resort had closed. However, the slide knocked the lower terminal off its foundation and toppled one of about 10 towers.

This is the time of the year that the snow is softening, and we ALL need to be more careful and aware of where we are skiing. Be safe out there, when you're enjoying your Spring Skiing!

From the NATIONAL SKI CLUB NEWS:

UTAH PROPOSES THE WORLDS SECOND LARGEST LIFT-CONNECTED RESORT:

On March 19, 2014, Nathan Rafferty, CEO of Ski Utah, a marketing and trade organization of the state's ski resorts, and representatives from Alta, Brighton, Canyons, Deer Valley, Park City Mountain Resort, Snowbird, and Solitude held a joint news conference to announce their support for a connection between all seven of the resorts via chairlift and ski runs, forming a European-style mega resort to be called ONE Wasatch.

The resorts in the Wasatch Mountains that are close proximity to each other and connecting these resorts via chairlift and ski runs would allow access by intermediate level and above skiers to more than 18,000 skiable acres and more that 750 runs, serviced by 100 lifts, and accessed on a single lift ticket. The proposed plan calls for connecting Big and Little Cottonwood Canyons, connecting Big Cottonwood to Park City Resort, connecting Park City Resort and Canyons -- all of which could be done on private property but would still require government approval due to watershed issues that must be addressed. Dropping the rope line that currently divides Deer Valley and Park City Resort would instantly connect those resorts and Alta and Snowbird have been connected for years.

At the news conference, Nathan Rafferty of Ski Utah pointed out that, at this point, ONE Wasatch is a concept, not a plan, and it's certainly not a reality. Right now, the idea is to establish a vision for a one-of-a-kind mountain experience by providing information, defining the process, encouraging dialog, and listening to feedback. But once a consensus is made, the resorts say that the connecting lifts could be installed in a single summer's construction cycle.

There are a few obstacles to the idea. How will they devise a revenue-sharing plan between the resorts? (It's done in Europe all the time.) Two of the resorts, Deer Valley and Alta, don't allow snowboarding. (That would probably have to change.) Park City's and Canyons' owners, Vail Resorts and Powdr Corporation, are currently in court deciding whether or not to dissolve Park City's long held land lease. (Both resorts are behind the idea of ONE Wasatch, and say that the idea should go forward regardless of who wins or loses the lawsuit.) And local environmentalists and backcountry skiers have yet to be sold on the idea. Nonetheless, all the affected resorts seem optimistic that this idea can and will work.

If successful, the connection would create North America's largest ski resort and it would be the world's second largest, after France's Les Trois Vallées with 24,711 acres of terrain, but larger than Italy's Sella Ronda (currently the world's second-largest lift-connected ski resort at 6,900 hectares). See the list of the 50 largest ski areas in the world (as measured in hectares) on page 29 of the May-June, 2013 issue of The National Ski Club Newsletter. Clearly, if accomplished, this concept could be a game changer in the North American -- and the world's -- ski market! For more information, check out the One Wasatch website at <http://onewasatch.com/>.

SUN PEAKS TO BECOME CANADA'S JOINT 2ND LARGEST SKI AREA NEXT SEASON:

Sun Peaks Resort in British Columbia will build new trails in the resort's West Morrisey and Gil's area, increasing the area to 4,200 acres for the 2014-2015 ski season and making it one of the largest in and joint second biggest in Canada, equal to Lake Louise, but after Whistler Blackcomb. The resort has grown significantly in the past two decades after being purchased by Nippon Cable in 1992.

NEW SKI RESORT IN UTAH: Next ski season, there will be a new ski resort in Richmond, Utah (near Logan), bringing the state's total to 15 ski resorts. Cherry Peak Ski Resort, a 200-acre resort will be a teaching mountain with three lifts on private land with its base at 5,800 feet and which receives 322 inches of snow annually.

NEW WORLD RECORD SET FOR SPEED ON SNOW:

An Italian speed skier has broken his own eight-year old speed record by a little under one mile per hour to set a new speed skiing record – the fastest speed man has travelled on land without mechanized propulsion. Racing on the intimidating Chabrières speed run at the French resort of Vars as part of the Speed Masters event, Simone Origone reached 156.87 miles per hour. [Bruce Kuper, don't try to beat this time!]
