Bio: Dr. Charles Petit, OSM Surgeon: Knee, shoulder and hip arthroscopy specialist:

Dr. Petit graduated from Yale University in 1999, he then attended UC San Diego School of Medicine, and completed his orthopedic surgical residency at the Harvard Combined Orthopedic Residency Program. He received advanced training in sports medicine for knee, shoulder and hip arthroscopy at The Steadman-Hawkins Clinic in Vail Colorado where he was the associate team physician for the Denver Broncos and US Ski & Snowboard Teams. From 2009-2014, Dr. Petit was in private practice in Hood River and The Dalles. He remains an active assistant team physician for The US Ski & Snowboard teams. His practice focuses on the orthoscopic treatment of knee, shoulder and hip injuries in athletes of all ages and one of only a few northwest expert surgeons for arthroscopic hip surgery. He also has a very strong background in joint reconstruction as well as complex shoulder reconstruction.
