

The Kite Pavilion

The Fort Hill Shelter will be transformed into a bright, vibrant kite inspired pavilion encouraging visitors to revisit the British tradition of kite flying. From the shelter a kite building workshop will take place where the public will be able to build and fly their own kite.

Day Long Installation

Fr 9th - Sun 11th September

11 am - 6 pm

> KITE PAVILION and Kite building workshop by Mark Nixon & Viliina Koivisto, Fort Hill Shelter

About the artists

Mark Nixon

Mark Nixon is a UK registered architect and director of the design practice NEON. NEON's work explores new territories between architecture, design and art. NEON's work is often designed to engage with the public, transform the ordinary into the extraordinary and create moments of surprise and excitement.

www.seeneon.com/

Viliina Koivisto

Visual artist who primarily works with video, animation and community art. Her work often explores immateriality and she is interested in taking art and placing it within everyday life situations. Her video work is fascinated by the paradox of motion and the relationship between image and sound.

www.viliinakoivisto.com/