

Methods of Recognition

1. Send a letter of praise to family or significant others
2. Post public sightings of accomplishments/appreciation (on washroom stalls, elevators, lunch rooms, waiting lobbies)
3. Include an employee in a special meeting or project, lunch, or phone call with the CEO
4. Publish a recognition section in a company or department newsletter
5. Give an employee permission for a few hours each week to spend on a project or goal they are passionate about
6. Post on the company's Facebook page or other social media
7. Create a custom baseball card of the employee's wellness journey
8. Write an employee a check for "One Million Thanks"
9. Grant an invitation to an industry-specific gala, conference or trade show
10. Offer a jeans day, jersey day or funky shoe day
11. Provide time off: days off, half days, longer lunches, "sleep-in" days, work from home days
12. Create a Wall of Fame or banner of employee accomplishments
13. Offer new office supplies (ergonomic chairs, specialized laptops)
14. Include recognition in performance management system (add accomplishment to employee file)
15. Organize an employee appreciation event
16. Have a company photo taken for employees who engaged and/or met their wellness goals
17. Allow employee to select office furniture
18. Further employee discount on store/loyalty merchandise
19. Acknowledge an employee in a Town Hall or staff meeting
20. Create a custom business card with wellness accomplishments
21. Hold prize drawings (iPads, gift cards, travel vouchers, fitness equipment)
22. Provide transit vouchers
23. Create a home-made trophy or plaque