

What you'll do this week: learn a little from the Bible, pray together, commit to at least one of the service projects!

Have someone read out loud Romans 12:9-13.

1. How effective is insincere love? The sentence "love must be sincere" (vs. 9) seems so obvious. Why do you think the Bible makes this obvious statement? Similarly, why do we need to be reminded to "hate evil and cling to good" (vs. 10)?
2. One translation of verse 10 says to "outdo one another in showing honor". Without it becoming a cut-throat competition, how would your life change if you took up that regular practice? How would it change the lives of those you honor?
3. Of all the good stuff in verses 9 thru 13, what word, phrase or concept "hits your heart"? Please share with your group why you answered the way you did.
4. Why would it have been important to "practice hospitality" in the first century when this was written? Is it equally important today? Why or why not? List 2 or 3 ways you or your small group can live out verse 13 this week. Will you? Choose one and just do it!

What you'll do this week: learn a little from the Bible, pray together, commit to at least one of the service projects!

Have someone read out loud Romans 12:9-13.

1. How effective is insincere love? The sentence "love must be sincere" (vs. 9) seems so obvious. Why do you think the Bible makes this obvious statement? Similarly, why do we need to be reminded to "hate evil and cling to good" (vs. 10)?
2. One translation of verse 10 says to "outdo one another in showing honor". Without it becoming a cut-throat competition, how would your life change if you took up that regular practice? How would it change the lives of those you honor?
3. Of all the good stuff in verses 9 thru 13, what word, phrase or concept "hits your heart"? Please share with your group why you answered the way you did.
4. Why would it have been important to "practice hospitality" in the first century when this was written? Is it equally important today? Why or why not? List 2 or 3 ways you or your small group can live out verse 13 this week. Will you? Choose one and just do it!