Hallelujah! He is Risen!

For the month of April it seemed only fitting to share with you the Easter message as seen through the eyes of our current and former artists in residence. Their works have transcended cultural barriers and have touched both Christian and secular audiences through their beautiful and thought-provoking images. Thanks to your support of the artist-in-residence program, we have been blessed to welcome these incredibly talented men and women to New Haven to share their art with us. Thank you!

2nd Annual Art Gala Takes Place April 14

Micro dining, music, and art will take center stage on Saturday, April 14 from 5:00-7:30 p.m. as OMSC hosts the 2nd Annual Art Gala. Selected pieces from OMSC’s extensive art collection will be available for sale, along with new works by our current artist, Keng Sen Chong.

Attendees will also have an opportunity to meet award winning artist and cultural shaper Makoto Fujimura and participate in the live auction for a commissioned work of art by Keng Sen Chong. You won’t want to miss it.

For more information and to purchase tickets to the black-tie optional Gala, click here.

Did you know? For a nominal fee, your church or organization can utilize images from OMSC artists on your weekly bulletins or other publications. For more information and the fee structure, click here.
