

The Future by Jonny Berliner

Capo on 4th fret

A E A E A E A E
We'll all be driving flying electric cars in the future, in the future,
A E A E A E
Using stem cells to grow ourselves new arms in the future, in the future,
D D7
We'll have our iPods and our telephones implanted deep within our bones,
C F E
With holiday homes on the moon and Mars,
A E A E A E A E
In the future, in the future, in the future.

We'll all be eating pills instead of meals, in the future, in the future,
And cybersex will feel a lot more real in the future, in the future,
We'll have designer babies, we'll invent a cure for rabies,
And maybe we can reinvent the wheel,
In the future, in the future, in the future,

D Am
The future may be wonderful, the future may be terrible,
F E
The future is inevitable, the future!

We'll be drowning when the water levels rise in the future, in the future,
And only folks who live on mountains will survive in the future, in the future,
And we'll never meet no aliens 'cos they're too far away,
But then we may work out how to warp the speed of light.
In the future, in the future, in the future.

The future may be wonderful, the future may be terrible,
The future is inevitable, the future!

We'll use only robot soldiers to fight wars in the future, in the future,
And that way no one has to die for any cause in the future, in the future,
And while the battles are a-raging we'll invent a cure for aging,
And then kill ourselves with nuclear bombs for sure,
In the future, in the future, in the future,
