ArtSPARK
Santa Paula Art Museum School Tour Program

ArtSPARK ignites students’ imaginations and opens the door to arts education and creative exploration. Museum educators lead collaborative discussions, idea exchanges and questioning strategies to encourage critical thinking, interpretation and verbalization skills. To reinforce exhibit themes, students will also participate in a fun and engaging hands-on art activity.

ArtSPARK is offered at no cost to schools.

ArtSPARK is sponsored by The Allan Atmore Family, Bank of the Sierra, and the Paul and Anne Leavens Family Fund.

21st century skills of critical thinking, collaboration, communication and creativity

"From the moment we walked in, our students were captivated by art. From foreground to background to the iPad ‘I Spy’ activity and the art table, we were engaged. The pacing and positive atmosphere were perfect for our students. Especially touching was the coming together at the end to hear students talk about their art." - Ms. Anaya, Second-Grade Teacher, Hathaway School
Art creates community.

Art creates community. That's our mantra here at the Santa Paula Art Museum. It describes what we are: an art museum, a center for creative classes, and a shared space where our community can gather together. It also explains why we do what we do. We believe that art strengthens our community by providing opportunities for self-expression, connection, learning, and joy.
