

Be the light
Peter Henry Phillips

'Till no matter how far away
Or if i'm blindly mistaken
You'll be the the light for me
Will you be the light, be a light for me?

No matter how cold it gets
Promise me you'll be the light
You'll breathe it right, this time

No matter how hard it gets
How dark it gets
It feels right
Just be the light for me

And of this change, we speak
Out of these chains, we weep, inside
Promise me you'll be the light
You'll breathe it right for me

No matter how cold it gets
It don't matter if your cheeks are wet
Just be the light for me

I promise no matter how dark it gets
Baby I'll be a light, I'll be a light instead
