

The night

Peter Henry Phillips

Hey there, it's been a lonely night I hear
I swear, no one has seen your cab out here
Your body and your soul in two different places
Knowing you're growing old

Hey there, it's been a long, long time I fear
No, it's nothing personal
It's not that bad
If you lie to yourself
Just make sure that you're aware
And let the others know
How you are
Let the others see
Who you really are

(let everyone see what you're made of)
(let everyone know what you're made of)
(let the others see what you're made of)
(who you really are)

Hey there, it's been a lonely, lonely night I hear
