

Inge Franken, died suddenly and unexpectedly on September 6, 2012.

We lost a brave woman who has worked with untiring commitment to overcoming the consequences of Nazism in our families and in German society.

Using her "Stories from the Suitcase" in her school visits and stumble stone projects, she addressed racist and anti-Semitic ideologies and crime, and encouraged many young people to trace the footsteps of this disastrous past in their own families.

Researching the history of the former Jewish orphanage in the Fehrbelliner Straße 92 she has preserved a dignified and honorable memory for its former residents.

For her engagement Mrs. Franken was awarded the Obermayer German Jewish History Award in 2007.

She still had so many plans and so much to do.

We are committed to carry out the tasks that Inge had begun with her work and left for us to fulfill.

The funeral service will be held on 18 October 2012 at 10.00 clock in the Lutheran Church-New West, Oak Allee 47-53, 14050 Berlin, the burial place on the same day at the cemetery on the Stubenrauchstraße 43-45, 12161 Berlin.

One by One, and the Teutoburger district will commemorate Inge Franken on 20 October 2012. At 13.00 clock in the Fehrbelliner Straße 92, 10119 Berlin.
