Dear Reader,

2021 was another year of firsts for us. We started the year with just six people on the team, missing key roles that we needed to reach more students. By the end of the year, we had grown our team to 11 staff members (including our first-ever marketer and designer) who helped us scale to reach over 10,000 students. We also launched our first-ever humanities tutoring topic, “Humanities Essays,” which enabled us to support new and existing students with their English and Social Studies classes for the first time.

Most importantly, we took our first step towards proving to the world that UPchieve is here to stay. We’re more than just a short-term solution to students’ learning challenges during COVID-19. Tutoring and college counseling are essential supports that most students will need at some point during their 12+ years of public education. UPchieve’s platform makes these services available to every low-income high school student in the U.S., and more accessible than ever. In late 2021, we launched our first formal research study to measure the impact of our unique, on-demand model, and we’re excited to share the results with you soon!

Finally, I’d like to extend a huge thank you to all of our volunteers, donors, and supporters who make our work possible. To those of you who have been with us since day one, thank you for believing in UPchieve. To those of you who joined us this past year, thank you and welcome! I’m thrilled to share this journey of democratizing access to academic support with you.

Warmly,

Aly Murray
Founder and Executive Director, UPchieve

Storm, Geometry student

"Every time I had a problem or needed more detailed explanation, the UPchief coaches would really help me figure it out. With so many tutors, they taught me a lot of ways to solve problems and I was able to understand the concepts better. Since I did so well in my Geometry class last year my school put me in AP Statistics instead of the regular math class because they saw how much I've progressed."

Jeikof, College Applications student

“UPchief helped me to be the first member of my family to go to college. UPchief tutors explained every topic of the test and were very patient with me. I had no money for tutoring but I wanted to fulfill my dream. I discovered UPchief and I enjoyed every session. Without this website, I couldn’t have had a great score on my test. UPchief changed my life!!!"

Noad, College Applications student

“UPchief helped me accomplish many goals and one of them that I think greatly about all the time was helping me write and turn in my college essay on time. I believe that without UPchief’s help I wouldn’t be where I am today. Thank you!”
Impact

Beyond just performance, we changed the way students feel about learning!

Hillary, UPchieve student

“I am not a math person but UPchieve helped me out so much that I actually liked AP Calculus AB. The tutors would work so hard to find resources for me and they always took their time to make sure I understood how they got the answer.”

We provided...

6 training workshops to coaches to improve their social-emotional instruction.

We’ve gotten...

❤️ 2,000+ positive comments from students on post-session feedback forms

We also found...

Here’s what else we learned about our students this year:

2. Not understanding the subject
3. Learning difficulties
4. Stress/mental health issues
5. Workload

Top academic goals

1. Improve my grades
2. Pass my class
3. Maintain my current grade

85% of students had significant responsibilities outside of school and extracurriculars.

These responsibilities cost students 10 hours a week in potential study time.
Meet Aaron Custodio

Tell us about yourself!
“My name is Aaron and I’m 17 years old. I was born and raised in Queens, New York and I go to Bard High School where I’ve been on the wrestling team all four years. I love to play the guitar and sing. Music will forever be with my heart.”

How did you find out about UPchieve?
“Beat the Streets New York connected me with UPchieve. I saw that y’all offered 24/7 college counseling for free, and the timing was perfect because I was really anxious about the college application process. In the end, the help I got from UPchieve coaches helped me feel confident enough to apply to 21 colleges.”

What kept you coming back to UPchieve?
“Definitely the experience. The coaches were super helpful and I didn’t feel judged. I didn’t feel like I was being a burden. The 24/7 support is huge for me because there were times I pulled all-nighters and there was always a coach ready to help.”

What’s next for you?
“Out of the 21 colleges I applied for, I got into 19, including Ivy League schools like Yale, Columbia, and Brown. I’m proud to say that I’ll soon be a first-gen college student at Yale majoring in Political Science! After college, I’m considering becoming an immigration lawyer. One day, I want to be a policymaker in the government so that I can change systemic immigration issues that are impacting my local community.

Corporate Partner Spotlight:

Verizon is a founding partner and joined UPchieve in 2019. In addition to our ongoing employee engagement work, we launched a new phase of our partnership in 2021 to scale our efforts to 4,000+ new low-income students through our joint efforts with Verizon Innovative Learning Schools (VILS). VILS aims to provide students with the devices, connectivity, and skills required for success in today’s digital economy. Our partnership with VILS also opens the door for Verizon employees to become tutors in support of VILS students.

Alejandro Lozano
Corporate Social Responsibility Consultant at Verizon

“Our partnership with UPchieve has enabled us to meet both our community impact and employee engagement goals at once. Our schools are seeing high student engagement with the tutoring opportunities offered, and our employee volunteers value that they can help students at Verizon Innovative Learning Schools directly through UPchieve!”
School & Nonprofit Partnerships

UPchieve works directly with schools and nonprofits to ensure that all low-income students have access to high-impact tutoring and college counseling. Partnerships help us reach an audience of students who otherwise wouldn’t be introduced to UPchieve, such as students who wouldn’t know to search for help online themselves.

Through our partnerships, we help schools and nonprofits expand their instructional capacity and provide students with personalized support that accelerates their learning and boosts their confidence and academic motivation. Our partnerships are tailored to the needs of each unique partner and can include integrating UPchieve into classrooms and after school programs, helping to address specific subject knowledge gaps, providing direct support to teachers through professional development sessions, and much more.

Nonprofit Partner Spotlight: College Track

College Track is a nonprofit that finds first-generation college students and equips them with the tools to change their life trajectory. UPchieve has partnered with College Track since 2020 and has provided over 1,000 of their students with free, 1:1 tutoring and college counseling support. College Track’s creative implementation gives students the chance to use UPchieve during their program, tracks their progress, and gamifies their engagement.

Tina Huynh Colby
National Sr. Director of Academic Affairs at College Track

“From the first time we discovered UPchieve, we were impressed by their commitment to providing 24/7 access to academic support. A lot of our students have responsibilities after school, so late night access to support is really key. The work that College Track and UPchieve do complements each other. While we don’t have the peoplepower to dedicate extensive time studying with individual students or helping them craft college application essays, our students can get unlimited support with those topics on UPchieve.”
Meet an UPchiever: Trey Stevens

Born and raised in NYC, Trey joined UPchieve in January 2020 as our second full-time software engineer. Before UPchieve, he worked at Home Depot as an overnight freight associate and was an aspiring music producer. Eventually, he left Home Depot and stopped making music to take care of his grandmother. During that time, he found a new interest: JavaScript.

Today, Trey is a digital nomad traveling and working remotely in Europe. He describes this experience as an “adventure,” and with UPchieve’s remote-first work culture, he’s able to spend his mornings exploring. His favorite thing about UPchieve is the people, and he’s always appreciated how open-minded, flexible, and grounded the team is. He loves that UPchieve’s work culture enables people to create work schedules that best align with their personal lives.
