"Imagine what the loss is when . . . your entire community loses its children."

gkisedtanamoogk, TRUTH AND RECONCILIATION COMMISSION MEMBER

Friend Arla Patch spent three and a-half years working on the first Truth and Reconciliation Commission in the United States which was formed to cast light on the experiences of Native children in the child welfare system in Maine.

She will share an overview of this history, the work of the commission and the involvement of Friends.
As an educational and spiritual community, this is an opportunity for us to learn what we weren't taught in school about the shared history of Euro Americans & Native Americans.
