The international counselor supports and maximizes student learning by:

1. Modeling the skills and attitudes of a global citizen, including: cultural sensitivity, positive attitude, and empathy

2. Creating and implementing features which support students in a culture of transition and mobility

3. Establishing helping relationships with a community of diverse students

4. Facilitating communication among students, parents and teachers

5. Fostering intercultural communication within their school community

6. Applying relevant and appropriate ethics, laws and standards of professional practice to an international school context

7. Advocating for students and families

8. Collating and conducting research in the field and utilizing it to continuously improve support programs