A Little About David and Katy...

"As the need and desire for English continues to demonstrate economic advantage, the wealthy in Brasilia are able to pay for the highly sought-after English classes. The poor, however, can't dream of learning English. Through his church, and TeachBeyond volunteers, Pastor Adriano has been able to host short English camps during the summer. The results of these camps have been powerful on many levels, and the dream is to establish and develop an ongoing and stable program in the hopes that it will provide new opportunities and motivate people to pursue education in general. This vision lines up so closely with the pull we've been feeling on our hearts and our desire to use the skills God has given us to help others practically. It's become clear that we need to be involved full-time. We hope to leave for Brazil in the fall and we will be helping to develop a language program in Brasilia. We've been deeply grateful for how God has clarified his plan for us and kept us close."
