"People choosing into relationship with Jesus... is what the work is all about."

A Little About Tim...

"My story in its simplest form, is a downward curve with a significant turning point in my university years. There, through the Inter-Varsity community, I encountered Jesus in a way I had not before and it changed me completely. By the time I graduated it was clear that God was calling me into it full-time ministry. When I received the call to move from working with Inter-Varsity in my hometown in Newfoundland to Winnipeg, it was the joy of seeing students transformed that helped me say yes. This past May, at our annual Mark Camp, was as usual a microcosm of why I believe in the ministry of Inter-Varsity. As I led students through the second half of the Gospel of Mark I saw God breaking down significant barriers that has been holding students back in their relationship with him; the healing deep places of brokenness and four students who felt called to be baptized! People choosing into relationship with Jesus, weather for the first time or in faithfully living out their relationship with God, is what the work is all about."
