Scholarship candidates may submit their scholarship application pieces or any other manuscript that meets the contest requirements. If you apply for a scholarship and do not complete your registration, your contest entry will be eliminated.

First Prize winners must wait three years before submitting again to the category in which they won, but are welcome to enter subsequent contests in another genre. All contest entries are judged blind in adherence to the Council of Literary Magazines and Presses (CLMP) Code of Ethics.

Entries are judged "as is," but winning submissions selected for The Noyo River Review will be subject to editing before publication. Work will not be published without permission of the author. Copyright to selected work reverts to the author immediately after publication of the hard copy edition of The Noyo River Review.
