WASHINGTON, DC – A new ant-Clinton video and TV spot called “Take a Stand Against the Media Bosses and the Queen of Corruption” will give Americans a chance to “strike back at the liberal media bosses who are corrupting American journalism” by defeating “their chosen candidate,” according to the spokesman for a new Super PAC, America Is Worth It.

“This spot not only shows voters the Clinton corruption scandals -- from the emails to ‘pay to play’ at the State Department to the attempts to obstruct justice and destroy evidence – but the largest issue of all –the corruption of American journalism and the media bosses who are covering up for her,” said spokesman George Landrith.

“Hillary Clinton is at the center of Obama administration scandals far worse than Grant’s Teapot Dome or Nixon’s Watergate” said Landrith. “Almost every major agency in the federal government has been touched by scandal. Even the FBI’s senior leadership is now facing the most serious questions in that agency’s history.”

In addition to tying Clinton to the media bosses and their cover-ups she claims she gets a free ride on “the extremist issue” and disassociating herself from radicals like

- Billionaire “America-hater” George Soros,
  - “Racially Divisive” Al Sharpton,
  - the Black Lives Matter movement
  - the “anti-religious fanatics” at the ACLU.
- In addition, the spot claims Clinton have gotten a free ride facing questions about the Obama administration’s political wars on these groups:
  - (1) Police officers – The ad shows headlines about the administration first siding with those who assault police officers.
  - (2) Catholics and scriptural Christians – The ad shows a picture of the Little Sisters of the Poor as well as headlines about administration threats against other Catholic hospitals and charity groups.
  - (3) The U.S. military – The ad shows headline about political correctness in military and Rose Garden ceremony for deserter Bergdahl.
  - (4) Dissenters – The ad shows headlines about Democratic prosecutors trying to criminalize dissent and mentions Schumer’s proposed constitutional amendment that would shut down First Amendment rights and reinforce media bosses monopoly.
  - (5) Small Business – The ad cites anti-business practices of Obama administration and says liberals like Clinton want low growth policies in order to keep American dependent on government and politicians.

WIKI LEAKS

“The Wiki leaks have confirmed what we were talking about in our TV spot weeks ago: The corruption, the Democrat’s collusion with the media and extremist groups as well as the war on Catholics.”

WHY THANKS TO CHUCK SCHUMER?

“All we can say is thank you to Chuck Schumer for showing conservatives how to defeat Clinton” Landrith said “His panic when we ran a TV spot in upstate New York calling him the media’s ‘chosen candidate’ told us the message needed to go national.”

Schumer was well-financed but he panicked after this ad appeared and bought advertising in exactly the same three media markets. Newsday, which is the largest suburban newspaper in America, said in a story he was ‘dueling’ in upstate New York with our PAC.”

“In addition to tying our spot also brought up the face the Democrats get a free ride on ties to extremist groups and the political war the government is waging on police officers, Catholics and scriptural Christians, military, dissenters and small businesses.”

“Democrats like Schumer know when and where they are vulnerable. They know what will happen if their opponents ever tie them to the issues in this spot like the Democratic ties to extremist groups or the war on police officers and Catholics and so forth. Not to mention associating them with Clinton and Obama and the most scandal ridden administration in history.”

IT’S THE MEDIA BOSSES HIDE BEHIND THE ON-CAMERA “TALENT” AND THEIR REPORTERS.

“Rather than blaming the talent—the reporters – this video explains how these media bosses are driving out the good reporters. And in their place they are hiring people like themselves with little or no journalistic experience.”

THREE EXAMPLES OF SUPPRESSING REPORTERS.

“The spot points out how The New York Times yanked and rewrote an IRS scandal story that made the administration look bad. How NBC thwarted veteran investigative reporter Lisa Meyers when she tried to tell the truth about Obamacare. And how CBS shut down Sharyl Attkisson for trying to reveal the scandal of Benghazi. It also cites an article by veteran reporter Richard Benedetto about how networks do puff coverage of Obama. How Obama gets away with-- Wall St. Journal.”

WHY USE A LONG FORMAT?

“We believe our ad imitates how people, especially millennials, get their news today, with a flood of headlines and twitter-length messages,” said Landrith, about the TV spots’ unusual length. “At the same time we put a narrative around all this and we find viewers are very grateful for the context. They find it a lot to take in at first, but they also recognize the rush of truth and want to see it again.”

JANE FONDA CAMEO APPEARANCE

The TV spot shows San Francisco 49ers quarterback Colin Kaepernick along with the heads of networks like ESPN and says they “media bosses glorify insult to anthem and flag.” Followed by a picture of actress and liberal activist Jane Fonda and the question “Will Jane Fonda join next?”

“The Jane Fonda photo is meant to spark questions from millennials. We want to remind them that this isn’t the first time pampered, confused celebrities insulted those who keep us free,” said Landrith. “Clinton, Obama and the Democrats have either defended or refused to speak out against insults to the flag and anthem.”

GROUP INFORMATION

“We are a group of conservative activists—young, middle-aged and seniors,” said Landrith. “Several of us have lived and worked in New York, one of us grew up there, another one works there still, and all of us love New Yorkers and want to help them get a new U.S. Senator.”

As an independent expenditure, we have had no contact with any campaign and will not do so. But Schumer’s opponent, Wendy Long, seems to be presentable and able,” Landrith said.
