To strengthen cross-collaborations and synergies, five working groups were established to engage health partners, identify gaps, and clarify and address health needs for capacity building.

Members have supported the WMO COVID-19 Task Team and Global Heat Health Information Network (GHHIN).

By supporting these multidisciplinary collaborations, CoP members continue to build partnerships and provide technical expertise on environmental health decisions and actions that affect global ecosystems.