

Kevin Anthony & G-Town released, Jump the Fence, in June 2017 after working with Grammy-winning producer Joel Savoy. Based out of Galveston, Texas, the band wanted to work with Savoy to blend country, Cajun, folk and Tejano influences into their signature Gulf Coast sound. “This album is a little of both sides of the border of Texas and Louisiana and needed someone with his depth of experience to steer it in the right direction,” Anthony said. The Kevin Anthony & G-Town band is the kind you find not only in honky-tonks across Texas and backwoods Louisiana Blue Moon Saloons, but in backyard with family and friends under a big Texas moon, just like Grandpa would have wanted.