This photo was taken during a hike on a trail in Carroll County, Maryland (after we received some particularly devastating family news). The woods loom over the small frame of my youngest; a seven-year-old boy. Noah is standing in the shadow of a thin tree. It is the middle of fall.