The UBC School of Music returns with a new season of beautiful music — online from the stages of the Chan Centre and Old Auditorium.

Concerts at the School of Music will look a little different this year. Our soloists, chamber groups, large ensembles, and special guests are excited to bring you the gorgeous array of concerts and operas you’ve come to expect — in creative new ways!

We will be streaming all our events via the School of Music website music.ubc.ca/streaming until it’s safe to resume in-person concerts. We’ve reconfigured our ensembles and venues to safeguard the health of our musicians, and we’re exploring new technology at our disposal to create a more immersive experience for our virtual audiences.
