SCREAMBOX RELEASES FIRST ORIGINAL SHOW DURING “13 SCREAMS TO HALLOWEEN” PROMOTION

Top Fright Site Rolls Out New Original Show “Character With Christopher Nelson,” a Roundtable Discussion With Movie Industry Horror and FX Heavyweights

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (Oct. 19, 2017) Screambox, the leading streaming service for hardcore horror fans, is celebrating the Halloween season with a new original series, “Character with Christopher Nelson.” The three-part series will roll out in tandem with Screambox’s 13 Screams to Halloween movie promotion, which began on Oct. 13 and allows fans to stream 13 fan-favorite horror films for free until Oct. 31.

Academy Award-winning special effects makeup artist Christopher Nelson (Suicide Squad) hosts a roundtable discussion with FX industry heavy-hitters Rick Baker, Bart Mixon, Margaret Prentice and Vincent Van Dyke that offers unprecedented insight into the world of horror and creature special FX. The conversations range from the recent, sensational remake of “It” to behind-the-scenes anecdotes from the sets of movies like “The Fly,” “Men In Black,” “Star Trek” and more.

Part one, titled Halloween, Horror, and Jeff Goldblum’s Balls, of the initial three-show run, is available now at www.screambox.com and on the Screambox app. Part two will be released this Saturday, Oct. 21, with the final installment launching on Oct. 28.

The show can be viewed on any connected laptop, tablet, or phone and streamed using XBOX, Roku, Amazon Fire, Samsung TV, Apple TV, iOS, LeEco or Android.

"Character with Christopher Nelson" is a co-production of Screambox and TV4 Entertainment and comes on the heels of a joint venture between the two entities in which Screambox joins TV4 Entertainment's portfolio of OTT channels. The series was created by Christopher Nelson, and executive produced by Christopher Nelson, Stephanie Ford, and Nick Turner, with direction by Graham Denman.

"It's been a pleasure letting Screambox and TV4 Entertainment into our circle of FX makeup friends and peers. I'm excited to see what fun adventures we come up with next!" says Nelson of the partnership.

The roundtable participants all have storied careers in prosthetics and special FX with multiple Oscars, Oscar nominations and Emmy Awards between them:
