SUMMIT DESCRIPTION & GOALS

The 14th Hawai'i International Summit brings together the latest research on prevention, assessment, and intervention techniques concerning various aspects of trauma and maltreatment across the lifespan, as well as the long-term effects if untreated. Plenary and breakout sessions will discuss various types of child, adolescent and adult trauma, the dynamics of maltreatment and trauma at home or in the community, and the psychological, behavioral and neurodevelopmental effects. Nationally and internationally recognized presenters and local practitioners assemble to discuss the latest research, assessment methods, interventions, and prevention strategies for those who have been traumatized, abused, and/or victimized. Application of current research information and practical techniques are emphasized throughout this Summit.

OBJECTIVES

- Identify current state-of-the-science research and practice concerning child, adolescent and adult trauma and maltreatment
- Explain the dynamics and overlap of different types of trauma and maltreatment
- Identify the effects of early trauma on the long-term functioning of children, adolescents, and adults
- Improve skills and techniques for helping children, adolescents, adults, and families recover from various types of trauma and maltreatment
- Identify issues and strategies for preventing abuse and neglect
- Enhance understanding of Trauma-Informed Care approaches

CONTINUING EDUCATION

The Pre-Summit and Summit are approved to offer up to 28.0 hours of continuing education for Psychologists, Counselors, Marriage & Family Therapists, Social Workers, Attorneys and Substance Abuse Counselors. Additional CE accreditation may be available – due to accreditation procedures, we are prohibited from advertising prior to approval. CE credits approved by California agencies are accepted in most states. CE credits for each session will be available on the IVAT website: ivatcenters.org

Different sessions meet many licensure requirements for continuing education credits for child abuse, domestic violence, ethics, aging, substance abuse, child custody, domestic violence offender treatment, and child sexual abuse.

Types of IVAT Specialty Certification Programs

Pre-Summit and Summit Sessions meet many of the training requirements for IVAT Specialty Certification Programs

Specialty Certification in Domestic Violence Offender Treatment

Includes training and experience in working with both male and female intimate partner violence offenders, understanding the dynamics and safety issues involved in intimate partner violence and typologies of domestic violence offenders.

Specialty Certification in Child Custody Evaluations

Includes an understanding of the issues of child development, parenting abilities and issues, best interests of children, and assessment techniques in general and specifically regarding child custody cases. The dynamics of legal, forensic, and mental health issues are included.

Specialty Certification in Trauma Care

Includes an understanding of the various forms of trauma, short and long-term effects of trauma, and assessing and treating adults and/or children who have experienced both simple and complex trauma. The dynamics of post-traumatic stress disorder are included.

Child & Adult Advocacy Studies Training (CAAST)

Focuses on experiential, interdisciplinary, ethical, and culturally sensitive content that provides professionals with common knowledge base for responding to child and adult maltreatment. This certification focuses on development and understanding of the numerous factors that lead to child and adult maltreatment and the existing responses to child and adult maltreatment.

TUESDAY, MARCH 28, 2017

7:30 am – 9:00 am Continental Breakfast

7:30 am – 5:00 pm Registration

8:00 am – 5:15 pm Pre-Summit Workshops (Start and end time do vary, so please verify the time of your session and only register for one pre-summit workshop at a time. Full-day workshops are PSI-6. Half-day workshops are PS 7-15 A&B
Lunch Break on your own, 12:00 pm-1:30 pm

PRE-SUMMIT WORKSHOPS (Full and half-day sessions)

9:00 am – 4:30 pm

PS 6: Tips on Testifying, Legal & Mental Health Issues – Michelle West, Kevin Takata, Mitch Roth, Robert Geffner, Michael Hertica & Viola Vaughan-Eden

This workshop will provide a range of front-line professionals, and expert witnesses with the skills needed to effectively testify in court and, conversely, it will also provide litigators with the skill sets needed to conduct effective direct and cross-examination of lay and expert witnesses. The morning session is focused on legal issues and the afternoon session will present mental health issues.

9:00 am – 12:00 pm

PS 7a: Trauma-Informed Care & People with Disabilities: Supporting the Recovery of Individuals with Intellectual & Developmental Disabilities – Marisol Acosta

Individuals with disabilities are at least twice more likely to experience a traumatic event. This workshop will teach basic knowledge, skills, and values when utilizing a trauma-informed care framework in working with individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities. The audience will learn about potential risks and impact of traumatic events in individuals with disabilities. Case vignette and training activities will be utilized to explore assumptions and attitudes that providers may bring when working with these individuals that may help or hinder the ability to promote their recovery and resilience.

1:30 pm – 4:30 pm

PS 7b: Psychological First Aide for People with Intellectual Disabilities Who Have Experienced Sexual Abuse – Aafke Scharloo & Ebbene

Worldwide research shows that people with intellectual disabilities are particularly vulnerable to sexual abuse. Offering them psychological support at the earliest possible moment after the abuse will increase their ability to cope with the event significantly. We present a step-by-step Psychological First Aid program for professionals working with people with intellectual disabilities who have experienced sexual abuse. The program is focused not only on the victim but also on supporting their families and caregivers.

9:00 am – 12:00 pm

PS 8a: But It's Just Verbal Abuse – Paul Needham

This training will fill a significant gap in training resources for a wide range of practitioners who, through their daily professional responsibilities, regularly encounter older victims of domestic abuse. Through the voices of older survivors of abuse, this workshop will facilitate important discussions about the dynamics of abuse in later life, barriers to living free from abuse, interventions, and potential collaborations to address the needs of victims.

1:30 pm – 4:30 pm

PS 8b: Emerging Trends in Prevention of Abuse of Older Persons – Bettye Mitchell & Paul Needham

This session will provide a historical perspective of the field of abuse of older persons from the early 1970's to present day. Presentation will include topic areas of research, policy and training trends from research to practice, and their impact in the field of abuse in later life. Participants will gain insight into training programs of the National Adult Protective Services Association and a national training curriculum for colleges and universities by the National Committee for the Prevention of Elder Abuse and Partners.

9:00 am – 12:00 pm

PS 9a: The Strength at Home Program: A Trauma-Informed, Evidence-Based Intimate Partner Violence Intervention for Veterans – Casey Taft

While most who offer intimate partner violence (IPV) intervention services acknowledge that trauma is important when working with those who use violence, most IPV programs do not incorporate trauma-related material into their structure. The presenter, partnering with other leading experts in the areas of IPV and post-traumatic stress disorder interventions, developed the Strength at Home programs with this aim in mind. Strength at Home is a 12-session, small group intervention that takes a trauma-informed approach based on a social information processing model to reduce and prevent IPV in military service members and veterans.

1:30 pm – 4:30 pm

PS 9b: Five Stages of Healing for Victims of Domestic Violence – Oliver Williams

Over the years many battered women describe the desires to move beyond the feelings that are associated with their experiences of victimization. They describe the consequences of trauma, PTSD, feelings and memories of abuse and its aftermath. Many women and adult children describe the desire to heal. In interviews with 49 battered women, they discuss the five stages of healing for them. They take trauma and other reactions of abuse into account. Included in this presentation are adult children exposed to violence that describe their process of healing as well. The consequence of this presentation is to explore how to teach this process with victims of abuse in order to encourage hope, reduce feelings of isolation; to understand what they are going through and to encourage hope.

9:00 am – 12:00 pm

PS 10a: Ethical Issues in Mental Health Treatment & Forensic Evaluations – Steven F. Bucky

This workshop focuses on modeling the standard of care to facilitate decision-making when faced with potential ethical, legal, and clinical dilemmas, issues commonly raised in civil lawsuits and licensing complaints, and risks of using social media will be addressed. Ethnicity and cultural considerations will also be addressed.

1:30 pm – 4:30 pm

PS 10b: The Essential Ingredients of Ethical Attunement in the Treatment of Complex Development of Trauma – Mary Jo Barrett

Ethically attuned practitioners are present with their minds, hearts and spirits. Our five energy domains: emotional, spiritual, intellectual, physical and sensual are open, centered, grounded from an engaged mind-state when we are attuned to self and others. Most of us come into this field with the desire to be helpful. When we succeed in being helpful, a positive feedback loop is reinforced: our minds are active and engaged, we have an experience of worthiness and the knowledge that our intentions and interventions were beneficial. When we are helpful our hearts remain open, we are engaged and we have a sense of purpose. And there are many times in working with interpersonal violence and in our personal lives, where we are challenged; leaving us feeling powerless, devalued, out of control, helpless and hopeless. It is during these times when we lose our sense of attunement to our own needs and to the needs of our clients. We experience our own type of professional Fight, Flight, and/or Freeze. Together we will explore the essential ingredients necessary for us as professionals to identify when we have lost our sense of harmonious responsiveness and methods of how to recreate and maintain our centered minds, hearts and spirits.

9:00 am – 12:00 pm

PS 11a: ACEs, Toxic, Traumatic Stress, Biological Impacts & Resilience – David Corwin, Randy Alexander, Tasneem Ismailji & Mabelle Madsen Thompson

This workshop will focus on four topics related to Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs): 1) Toxic, and Traumatic Stress, 2) Biological Impacts and Corporal Punishment, 3) Trauma-Informed Care: Changing the Paradigm, and 4) Resilience: Assessment and Promotion.

1:30 pm – 4:30 pm

PS 11b: Integrating Trauma Resiliency Awareness into Practice – Kathy Franchek, Denyse Olson-Dorff, Vicki Corwin & Agnes Tiwari

This workshop will focus on integrating trauma-resiliency awareness into practice and healthcare. Facilitators will also examine the integration of trauma-resiliency awareness into elementary school education and addressing trauma in elders with resilience enhancing approaches.

9:00 am – 12:00 pm

PS 12a: Using 12 Core Concepts in Implementing Best Practice in Trauma-Informed Care – Leslie Ross

In this presentation participants will learn the fundamental elements of a trauma-informed approach to creating programs, organizations, and systems. Individuals will learn to understand the widespread impact of trauma and potential pathways to recovery. They will learn to recognize signs and symptoms associated with trauma in clients, families, practices and systems and will learn key strategies to reduce the impact of trauma and actively resist re-traumatization. A trauma-informed approach can be implemented by any individual, in any type of service setting or organization and is distinct from trauma-specific interventions or treatments that are designed specifically to address the consequences of trauma and to facilitate healing.

1:30 pm – 4:30 pm

PS 12b: Organizational Approaches to Reducing the Impact of Secondary Traumatic Stress (STS) – Leslie Ross

This presentation describes the STS-Informed Organizational Self-Assessment tool created by experts in STS and members of the National Child Traumatic Stress Network's STS Committee. This self-assessment provides a diagnostic picture of an organization's strengths and weakness at protecting workers from direct and indirect trauma exposure, and was designed to provide a blueprint for training and consultation. This workshop will provide attendees with an opportunity to assess the degree to which their organization is STS-informed, and how to work together to create a blueprint for enhancing resiliency in the clinical workforce.

9:00 am – 12:00 pm

PS 13: Research – Informed Youth Bullying Prevention: Social-Emotional Learning & School Climate Improvement Approaches - Dorothy Espelage

This workshop includes a discussion of youth bullying, including face-to-face bullying, cyberbullying, and gender-based bullying. Discussions will include school-climate and school-based interventions including social-emotional learning approaches, bystander interventions, and programs that address bias-based bullying. Promising programs (e.g. restorative practices) and programs that are evidence-based will also be highlighted.

9:00 am – 12:00 pm

PS 14a: Ho'oponono, Principles of Chiefly Leadership - Ramsey Taum

The seeds of abusive and violent behavior demonstrated by adults are often rooted in traumatic childhood memories. They in turn bear fruit to multigenerational and intergenerational disease, disorder and dysfunction. This presentation will introduce and explore the healing benefits of the Hawaiian cultural practices of Ho'oponono and Lua. This interactive experience will explore and discuss place based, cultural based values, principles and philosophies which are key to helping address and resolve traumatic memories which act as barriers and obstacles to healthy living and relationships.

1:30 pm – 4:30 pm

PS 14b: Mele & Spirit – Jon Osorio

This workshop focuses on how music heals and inspires the Kanaka Maoli. Speaking from the experiences as a concert musician, composer, recording artist, historian and teacher, Jon Osorio will describe the significance of language, poetry and music in Hawaiian culture and human lives. The workshop also focuses on how composition matures young minds, and allows troubled individuals to confront their traumas, how an appreciation for beauty inspires our daily lives, and how creativity prolongs the meaningful lives of the elderly.

9:00 am – 12:00 pm

PS 15a: Simple Body Based Modalities as a First Step to Heal Trauma & Vicarious Trauma – Agnes Tiwari & Yael Calhoun

Persons with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities (IDD) are subjected to abuse and other trauma more often than other people. Unresolved trauma interferes with quality of life in all areas (neurophysiology, everyday function, relationships) and causes some people to have symptoms of aggression or extreme self-injury. This presentation will summarize what is known about trauma and persons with IDD. We will also look at ways to diagnose and treat the results of trauma, including PTSD, mood disorders, other anxiety disorders, and other neurophysiologic sequelae. We will emphasize persons who communicate without words, and will discuss ways to help that can be part of the person's everyday life with family and direct support personnel.

1:30 pm – 4:30 pm

PS 15b: Tai Chi & Qigong for Stress Management Peak Performance, Survival, & Career Longevity – Terrence Dunn & Chris Blodgett

This workshop provides an extraordinarily effective, profound, healthful and sublimely blissful, self-regulated holistic stress-management tool for individuals who treat trauma victims. Through the Terry Dunn's guided practice of the rare and powerful "Flying Phoenix Qigong", participants will relieve and transform deep levels of bodily tension/corporealized stress throughout the session, and as a result gain insight into what their unique stressors are, how their body and minds deal with stress, and directly experience how sublimely and powerfully Flying Phoenix Qigong dissipates and transforms internalized stress.
