

SELECTED ARTWORKS BY NEIL FRAZER

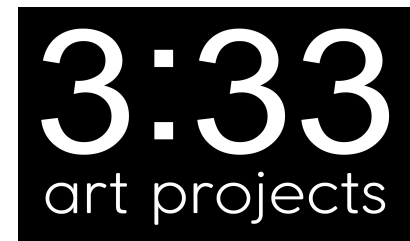

VIEWING BY APPOINTMENT ONLY

Sensory experience is the key to Frazer's painting, unashamedly visceral, a gestural physical painter he paints about nature and his experiences within it. At the core of this expression is a dedication to travel and observation of the natural world. Desert, mountain or coast - he is drawn to the rugged and most challenging landscapes. Information is gathered by walking, climbing and swimming, on boats and in helicopters so he is fully immersed in the environment. Frazer's works are perhaps best recognised by the thick expansive use of textured paint juxtaposed with pure white areas into which the viewer may journey. The areas of white operate both visually and conceptually heightening the abstract nature of the overall composition while isolating and emphasising the energy and physicality of the impasto paint. A viewer can their bring our own experience of the natural world to these paintings - which evoke memories of sight, sound and smell.

Neil Frazer was born in Canberra, and completed a BFA at Canterbury University. A Fulbright Scholarship enabled him to do post graduate study at the New York Studio School and in 2001 he completed a masters by research degree at the College of Fine Arts, Sydney. His residencies include the Victoria College of the Arts and the Frances Hodgkins Fellowship at the University of Otago, Dunedin. An award winning artist and finalist in many art prizes Frazer has had many public and dealer gallery exhibitions in both Australia and New Zealand, and his work is held in many public collections including the National Maritime Museum and the Art Gallery of South Australia.
