PREFACE

Wesley and Methodist Studies (WMS) publishes peer-reviewed scholarly essays that examine the life and work of John and Charles Wesley, their contemporaries (proponents or opponents) in the eighteenth-century Evangelical Revival, their historical and theological antecedents, their successors in the Wesleyan tradition, and studies of the Wesleyan and Evangelical traditions today. Its primary historical scope is the eighteenth century to the present; however, WMS will publish essays that explore the historical and theological antecedents of the Wesleys (including work on Samuel and Susanna Wesley), Methodism, and the Evangelical Revival. WMS is a collaborative project of the Manchester Wesley Research Centre and The Oxford Centre for Methodism and Church History, Oxford Brookes University and is published annually by Clements Publishing.

The editors would like to highlight that the subject matter of the articles in this volume by Henry Rack and David Ceri Jones relate to two forthcoming conferences marking important anniversaries. In 2013 there will be a conference on Sunday 6 August to mark the bicentenary of the Methodist Missionary Society, as well as the publication of two volumes of the Methodist Missionary Society history by John Pritchard. Further information will be published in due course by the MMS at <http://www2.div.ed.ac.uk/other/mms/> and on the Ashgate website.

In 2014 the 300th anniversary of the birth of George Whitefield will be marked by a conference at Pembroke College, Oxford sponsored by the Manchester Wesley Research Centre and The Oxford Centre for Methodism and Church History, Oxford Brookes University in conjunction with Aberystwyth University and the Jonathan Edwards Center at Yale University. Further information can be found at <http://www.mwrc.ac.uk/whitefield-conference/>
