

Theatre Gu Leòr's Environmental Policy

The company has committed to taking action across a range of areas, with the purpose of minimising the environmental impact of their operations, productions and touring work.

Policies & Operations

- Monitoring and evaluation of all staff journeys, encouraging the use of public transport where possible.
- Data collection from activity areas, calculation and evaluation of the company's carbon footprint.
- We will monitor and reduce the carbon footprint of Theatre Gu Leòr's office.

Suppliers & Equipment

- Identifying and working with suppliers that have a robust environmental policy in place.
- Ensuring that new equipment purchases are as energy efficient as possible.
- We are committed to using energy suppliers that use renewable energy.

Publicity

- Investing in digital and online methods for audience communication.
- Encouraging subscribers to opt into email, e-newsletter and social media communication in preference to paper mailouts.
- Using local printers and printing of all publicity on sustainable paper.
- Including a recycling encouragement on all printed material.

Touring

- Choosing the most environmentally friendly mode of transport for journeys attached to a touring production.
- We will endeavour to use the most environmentally friendly accommodation where possible.
- Reusing, recycling and storing old sets where possible.

Working with artists

- Encouraging all creative team members to be as environmentally friendly as possible when working on any of the company's productions or projects.

Working with Venues & Audiences

- Where possible, touring to venues that have a robust environmental policy in place.
- Working with venues to encourage more audiences per mile.

Staff

- All Theatre Gu Leòr's staff will take responsibility for adhering to the company's environmental policy. In addition, one member of staff will be responsible for implementing and monitoring this policy.
- Ensuring that company's environmental policy is available to all new members of staff and freelance staff, and involving them in the company's environmental programme.

Theatre Gu Leòr have also committed to a regular review of their environmental impact of our activities, engaging all members of staff and the Board in this review.
