Kathy Anderson, WAMM Founding Member

Kathy Anderson, one of the founders of WAMM, died this March.

For those who did not know Kathy, she played a huge role in defining the goals and actions of WAMM until the late 1980s, when she and her husband moved up to Duluth, where she continued her work for peace and justice.

Kathy was a voice of reason on issues including nuclear weapons, the war in Central America, the Cold War, and the economic costs of war. Kathy represented the strength found in all the pioneer WAMM women.

She carried the message of WAMM throughout her travels to the former Soviet Union, the former East Germany (German Democratic Republic), and to conferences and actions at home and abroad.

Kathy will be remembered and missed.
