

Disclosure to Customers

Privacy Statement We collect non-public personal information about you from the following sources: Information from your application or other forms; information about your transactions with our affiliates, others; or us and information we may receive from consumer reporting agency. We do not disclose any nonpublic personal information about our customers or former customers to any one, except as permitted by law. We restrict access to your personal and account information to those employees and our affiliates who need to know that information to provide products and services to you. We maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to guard your non-public personal information.

Business Continuity During times of local or national emergencies, the office may be closed and every attempt to return to normal business operation will be made. Our Business Continuity Plan addresses varying degrees of business disruption. Telephone calls to the office's main telephone number will be forwarded to a remote location for handling. To access your account funds or positions, please dial 203-302-7300 or check our website for alternative access information. Our Business Continuity Plan is subject to modification and any updates are available upon request. If a customer would like to receive a copy of our plan please send a written request to Tourmaline Partners, LLC, 680 Washington Blvd., 10th Floor, Stamford, CT 06901.

Customer Identification Program Important Information About Procedures for Opening a New Account: To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. What this means for you: When you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.

Payment for Order Flow The Company does not receive any payment for order flow. Payment for order flow as defined by SEC Rule 10b-10 is any monetary payment, service, property, or other benefit that results in remuneration, compensation, or consideration to a broker or dealer from any broker or dealer, national securities exchange, registered securities association, or exchange member in return for the routing of customer orders by such broker or dealer to any broker or dealer, national securities exchange, registered securities association, or exchange member for execution, including but not limited to: research, clearance, custody, products or services; reciprocal agreements for the provision of order flow; adjustment of a broker or dealer's unfavorable trading errors; offers to participate as underwriter in public offerings; stock loans or shared interest accrued thereon; discounts, rebates, or any other reductions of or credits against any fee to, or expense or other financial obligation of, the broker or dealer routing a customer order that exceeds that fee, expense or financial obligation.

SEC Rule 606 The Company shall, on request, disclose the identity of the venue to which your orders were routed for execution in the six months prior to the request, whether the orders were directed orders or non-directed orders, and the time of the transactions, if any, that resulted from such orders.

Privacy Policy

The Securities Exchange Commission's adoption of Regulation S-P, the "privacy rules" promulgated under Section 504 of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, requires all broker-dealer firms to provide all of its customers and consumers a disclosure statement, outlining the firm's procedures and policies regarding the safeguarding of "non-public personal information" that is obtained during the normal course of business.

Tourmaline Partners, LLC understands your Privacy is important and the firm has always been committed to maintaining your confidentiality. This notice will help you understand what types of non-public personal information we may collect, how we use it and how we protect your privacy. We recognize that you expect your personal information to be handled in a professional, confidential manner and we have adopted the following policies to safeguard your privacy and to explain the circumstances, under which we may collect, maintain and use any non-public personally identifiable information that you provide us.

We collect information about you to help us serve your financial needs, provide customer service, offer new products or services, and fulfill legal regulatory requirements. The type of information we collect may include:

- Information we receive from you on applications or other forms (for example, your name, address, social security number, assets and income).
- Information about your transactions with us or others (for example, your account balance, payment history, or parties to transactions).
- Information that we receive from a consumer reporting agency such as your creditworthiness and credit history.

We do not share non-public personal information about you with unaffiliated third parties with whom we have no contractual business relationship for their independent use unless (1) you give us permission, (2) it is necessary to complete a transaction on your behalf, (3) it is necessary to protect you against fraud, comply with a subpoena or other court order or is otherwise required or permitted by law. We do not sell information about you to outside unaffiliated companies.

Furthermore, we restrict access to your personal and account information to those employees who need to know that information to provide products and services to you and maintain strict physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to guard your nonpublic personal information.

If you decide to close your account(s) or become an inactive customer, we will adhere to the privacy policies and practices as described in this notice.

We reserve the right to change these privacy policies at any time. You will receive appropriate notice of changes to our Privacy Policy.

Questions concerning this Privacy Policy may be directed to us at 203-302-7300, or by e-mail at jg@tourmalinellc.com.

Business Continuity Planning

Tourmaline Partners, LLC has developed a Business Continuity Plan which describes how we will respond to events that significantly disrupt our business. Since the timing and impact of disasters and disruptions is unpredictable, we will have to be flexible in responding to actual events as they occur. With that in mind, we are providing you with this information on our business continuity plan.

Our Business Continuity Plan

We plan to quickly recover and resume business operations after a significant business disruption and respond by safeguarding our employees and property, making a financial and operational assessment, protecting the firm's books and records, and allowing our customers to transact business. In short, our business continuity plan is designed to permit our firm to resume operations as quickly as possible, given the scope and severity of the significant business disruption.

Our business continuity plan addresses: data back-up and recovery; all mission critical systems; financial and operational assessments; alternative communications with customers, employees, and regulators; alternate physical location of employees; critical supplier, contractor, bank and counter-party impact; regulatory reporting; and assuring our customers prompt access to their funds and securities if we are unable to continue our business.

Our clearing firm, Goldman, Sachs & Co. retains a back-up of many of our important records. While every emergency situation poses unique problems based on external factors, such as time of day and the severity of the disruption, we have been advised by our clearing firm that their objective is to restore its own operations and be able to complete existing transactions and accept new transactions and payments within one business day. Your orders and requests for funds and securities could be delayed during this period.

Varying Disruptions

Significant business disruptions can vary in their scope, such as only our firm, a single building housing our firm, the business district where our firm is located, the city where we are located, or the whole region. Within each of these areas, the severity of the disruption can also vary from minimal to severe. In a disruption to only our firm or a building housing our firm, we will transfer our operations to a local site when needed and expect to recover and resume business within one business day. In a disruption affecting our business district, city, or region, we will transfer our operations to a site outside of the affected area, and recover and resume business within one business day. In either situation, we plan to continue in business, transfer operations to our clearing firm if necessary, and notify you through our web site (www.tourmalinellc.com). If the significant business disruption is so severe that it prevents us from remaining in business, we will assure our customer's prompt access to their records.

Contacting Us

If after a significant business disruption you cannot contact us as you usually do at 203-302-7300 please call our emergency number(s) at (203) 722-5727 or (914) 450-7298.

If you have questions about our business continuity planning, you can contact us at 203-302-7300.
