SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

On Monday May 15 the fourth annual Stroke Reduction Golf Classic benefiting Spectrum Health's Stroke Prevention efforts will take place. Join us to reduce your strokes on the course and support reducing the risk of stroke off the course through education and awareness programs through Spectrum Health.

Mike Bender, a Golf Digest Top 5 Instructor and coach to Masters and British Open Champion Zach Johnson, as well as other PGA and LPGA players, will be offering Long Ball Clinics this year. Take advantage of learning from the best and get a jump on your game for the 2017 season.

ABOUT THE CAUSE

Spectrum Health Stroke Prevention Team

May is Stroke Awareness Month. Statistics show that one American dies from a stroke every four minutes, and that many of these deaths are preventable.

The annual Stroke Reduction Golf Classic was created to benefit the Spectrum Health Stroke Team. Their role is to educate more people in our community about the risk factors, signs and symptoms of stroke, to help reduce the numbers affected by this debilitating event.

The dual objective of the Stroke Reduction Golf Classic is "reducing strokes in life and golf through knowledge and action." Participants and sponsors will learn techniques to improve their golf game and to reduce the chances of experiencing a stroke, all while enjoying a fun-filled day on and off the course.
