THE ENCHANTED GARDEN

An interactive music performance for children

The Enchanted Garden provides children with an exposure to classical music in a way which is engaging, accessible and imaginative. The relaxed performance space encourages children to naturally respond to their own experience of the music, including interacting with the performers and call-and-response body percussion. The Enchanted Garden follows a narrated story which is delivered through music, theatre and dance.

The story follows two singers who find themselves in an Enchanted Garden. They find a beautiful flower, but a strong breeze carries it away. So they go on a search for the flower and meet a ballet dancer who helps them in their search. Eventually a naughty monkey returns the flower, and the singers celebrate with the children in dance and music-making.

The Enchanted Garden is a student-lead initiative which includes a combination of theatre, dance and music (classical arrangements and original compositions). The performance has been co-created by students from the Yong Siew Toh Conservatory of Music, NUS, and was inspired by the ‘Bamboozle Approach’ by the Bamboozle Theatre, UK, a company that creates multi-sensory theatre experiences for children with autism or learning disabilities.
