

Programming Disclaimer

In order to indemnify AMP, disclaimers must be placed before or after any programming which is to be aired on AMP. Producers are not required to produce or edit their own disclaimers – if no disclaimer is provided AMP staff will supply a disclaimer with the individual producer's phone and/or email. Disclaimers must last at least 10 seconds.

You may use an alias or other identification. The standard disclaimer is as follows:

This program is (was) presented by (name of the producer) who is wholly responsible for the content.

The producer acknowledges that this program is (was) not the expression of AMP, the local cable service provider or any cities or other agencies providing financial support for AMP.

None other than the named producer are accountable for any of the material presented.

For more information on this program contact (name of the producer) at (producer's street, P.O. Box, phone, or e-mail address).

(Optional) All rights reserved by (name of the producer) ©(year)