WEEK 01

“For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him.”

Evidence That Demands a Verdict

The Holy Bible was written by divinely inspired men illustrating God's revelation of Himself to man. These men bore witness to and prophesied things, some seemingly insignificant, some monumental, but ultimately – all timeless. So what does it all mean and what does it do for us today?

A cornerstone of the Christian faith is the knowledge of, and belief in, one God who made Himself real in three persons. The Father we worship, the Son we follow and the Spirit we embrace, each vitally important to the daily journey of a believer. So, in whom do you believe?

WEEK 05

““Everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved.” How, then, can they call on the one they have not believed in? And how can they believe in the one of whom they have not heard? And how can they hear without someone preaching to them? And how can anyone preach unless they are sent? As it is written: “How beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news!””

To have the cure for any ailment and not share it would be inconceivable. So it is to the person who has received Christ into their life. We have been saved to now be sent. Sent out to tell others about the love of God and all that He has done for us – His living testimony.

The understanding of eternity has been as evasive as that of pre-historic times. The unfailing question of, "What happens when we die?" is one that has been asked for as long as we have lived. So, what should we believe? Let's take a look at what the Bible says.

WEEK 07

“Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moths and vermin destroy, and where thieves break in and steal. But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where moths and vermin do not destroy, and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.”

stewardship.

The privilege of this life and the promise of eternity put the things of this world into a different perspective. Understanding that we are blessed to be a blessing to others carries a weight that requires us to also ensure that we are good stewards of our time, our talents and material possessions. But, are these things really mine or are they God's and why is there even a difference?

WEEK 08

“You are the light of the world. A town built on a hill cannot be hidden. Neither do people light a lamp and put it under a bowl. Instead they put it on its stand, and it gives light to everyone in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven.”

the christian and social order. the family.

The world we live in is one ruled by culture and preference and with that comes the possibility of those things ruling us. As Christians, we are to seek to make the will of Christ supreme in our lives and in the society we live in through our example. Our example though, can only be seen in light of the saving grace of Jesus working through us. So, how do we as Christians show a true and uncompromising example that eradicates hate and cultivates love? One that breaks addictions, births renewal and readies us to do the work left to us in the spirit of God's love.
