California Native Plant Society-San Diego PRESENTS:
Garden Tour 2020: “The Artful California Native Garden”

Saturday April 4, 2019, 9:00 am to 4:00 pm

The California Native Plant Society-San Diego Chapter presents its eighth annual Garden Tour, The Artful California Native Garden: A Native Garden and Art Tour in East County, on Saturday, April 4, 9:00am-4:00pm. Spend the day exploring and learning from these gardens that illustrate habitat plants, dry streambed bioswales, adjacent natural areas, pool-to-pond conversions, water catchment devices, slope gardens, charming water features, bridges, sculptures and more. Enjoy meeting artists in many of the gardens who will be creating and selling their California native garden themed artwork and crafts. Be inspired this Spring!

LOCATION
Mount Helix/La Mesa, Allied Gardens, Lakeside, Blossom Valley and other East County areas

GARDENS

• Entry to 12 private residential gardens staffed with interpretive docents, owners, and designers
• 4 additional FYI (For Your Inspiration) viewing gardens on the route
• Instructional presentations and plantings
• Planting demos and guided tours at The Water Conservation Garden check-in hub

TICKETS

• Tickets sales begin Thursday, January 30. Tour tickets are $30 through February 29, $35 beginning March 1, $40 at door.
• All participants buying online before March 28 will have a tour booklet mailed to their address within the week preceding the Tour and can begin the tour at any garden location during Tour weekend.

For questions, please contact Judie Lincer at gardentour@cnpssd.org or at 619-277-1490

For tickets and further information, please visit: cnpssd.org/events

The San Diego chapter of the California Native Plant Society (CNPS), a non-profit organization, hosts several annual special events. These garden tours, workshops and plants sales promote the use of native California plants in landscaping for their positive impact on the community's health and well-being. Featured yearly programs raise awareness and provide extensive training to professionals and the public in native gardening techniques. Through partnerships with nonprofits, businesses, and government agencies, CNPS-San Diego strives to improve water quality, conservation, fire safety, and habitat preservation.