Grrr, bark, s#@t! Only suggestion would be to add something that says there is "work ahead," or in some way indicates specifically that our staff is working in the immediate area. Also, is "Dog Guardian" the accepted term, or is it something specific to the dog-centric, dog-obsessed Bay Area? I will fall on my sword over including the dog language - it's got to go.

Here you go. Howard, believe you've seen this before...remember the Bark, woof part? That component is used in a number of places I'm aware of in Canada and US, including at one of our western parks...Bryce, I think.
