Dietetic Intern

BACKGROUND: The Community Health Education Program seeks a dietetic intern to provide general support for nutrition education programs. This internship is a valuable training experience for participants pursuing a career in nutrition, dietetics, and/or public health. We hope the experience will be valuable to participants, in providing them with skills, as well as a broader understanding of issues related to food insecurity in our community.

RESPONSIBILITIES:
- Provide community-based nutrition education services (Cooking Matters, tabling events, displays, etc)
- Develop and update nutrition materials using evidence-based recommendations and current research
- Observe other Food Shuttle services and activities
- Completes assignments related to dietetic internship requirements
- Other duties as assigned

QUALIFICATIONS:
- Must be accepted into a dietetic internship program or be in the process of applying to a distance dietetic internship program
- Bachelor’s Degree with a major in community nutrition, public health nutrition, foods and nutrition, dietetics, or other related field
- Outgoing personality with excellent oral and written communication skills
- Solid organizational skills with the ability to manage multiple tasks.
- Demonstrated ability to work independently and with multiple staff across an organization
- Must have reliable transportation
- Must be able to lift at least 40 pounds
- Must have evening availability

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:
- We accept dietetic interns on a first-come-first-served basis throughout the year
- Must adhere to agency rules and policies (dress codes, confidentiality, attendance, punctuality, professionalism, etc)
- All internships are based at the Raleigh Headquarters at 1001 Blair Drive, Raleigh, NC 27603. Opportunities to travel to other counties during this internship are probable

TIME COMMITMENT: 40 hours per week; the length of the rotation will be determined by the internship program

COMPENSATION:
This is an unpaid/volunteer internship.

TO APPLY: Submit an application, cover letter, and resume to Susan Meador, Volunteer Services Director, Susan@foodshuttle.org