Reminder: Upcoming Events
In September 2016, Senate Bill 100 (SB 100) went into effect with the goals of transforming school discipline policies and practices, ending an era of zero tolerance in Illinois, and encouraging schools to find alternatives to suspension and expulsion. More than a year into implementation across our state, we ask ourselves: What has happened in Illinois schools since SB100 passed? What changes have schools made to implement the new law? How do we measure progress? What do we need to better support schools and communities in this transformation process?

Thursday, March 22nd, 2018 from 9am-1:30pm

25 East Pearson, Loyola University Chicago School of Law in Kasbeer Hall

Breakfast and lunch will be provided. Registration is free but space is limited, so register today below!

DATE AND TIME
Thurs, March 22, 2018
6:00 PM – 8:00 PM

LOCATION
Jane Addams Hull-House Museum
800 South Halsted Street
Chicago, IL 60607

Join Hull-House, educators, and activists to discuss organizing and action across neighborhoods.

Speakers include:

- Amara Enyia (moderator), public policy consultant and community organizer in Austin
- Elisabeth Greer, co-founder and founding board member, Chicago United for Equity;
- Candace Moore, Staff Attorney, Education Equity Project at Chicago Lawyer's Committee for Civil Rights; and
- Simone Woods, Student Support Manager, Communities in Schools.

This event is part of Hull-House's current exhibition Claiming Space: Creative Grounds and Freedom Summer School, a exhibition that explores the transformation of public school space amidst school closures on the West Side. Making the West Side: Community Conversations on Neighborhood Change is a Hull-House project that investigates the history of neighborhood change and contemporary issues on Chicago’s West Side.
