You can help voters experiencing trouble at the polls.

We need volunteers to help protect voting rights on March 20 by answering calls to our nonpartisan 866-OUR-VOTE hotline and by monitoring polling places in Chicago and suburban counties.

You must be registered to vote in Illinois to serve as a field volunteer - it is not too late to register if you are eligible. Attorneys, law students, and legal and policy professionals are welcome. This is a popular pro bono project and will be an excellent networking opportunity!

Volunteers must complete a training in advance, either online or in person. Our in-person trainings with CLE credit will take place:

- February 28, 12:15pm -1:30pm at University of Chicago Law School, 1111 E 60th Street, Room F (field)
- March 13, 12pm - 2pm at Kirkland, 300 North LaSalle St.(field)
Needed: Volunteers for March 20 Election Protection Call Center and Field Program

- March 13, 3pm - 5pm at Kirkland, 300 North LaSalle St. (call center)
- March 15, 3pm - 5pm at Kirkland, 300 North LaSalle St. (field)

"As the day wore on, almost as every hour went by, the process became more and more satisfying and I really felt like, you know what, I am making a difference here [...] We make a difference inside those precincts."

- Russell E. Levine, 2017 Election Protection volunteer

About Election Protection

Chicago Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights leads the local arm of Election Protection, a nonpartisan voting rights program that trains legal professionals to monitor the polls in the city and suburbs and to answer the 866-OUR-VOTE hotline to help voters who are experiencing challenges. Hundreds of attorneys have volunteered in past elections. In 2016, nearly a thousand calls were made to the Illinois hotline call center. Data and stories from voters' experiences are featured at www.electionprotectionillinois.org and drive systemic voting rights reforms through legislation, litigation, and community education and activism.
