What does an energy startup have to do with civil rights?

Sonny Garg is Global Lead for Energy Solutions at Uptake Technologies,
What does entrepreneurship have to do with civil rights? Meet Sonny Garg at our annual benefit on October 10.

named "Hottest Start Up in 2015" by Forbes.

A Leadership Fellow at the Aspen Institute and proud board member of The Invisible Institute, Sonny’s prophetic Op-Ed in Crain’s Chicago sounded an urgent call to rethink civic leadership that demands transparency and investment of the resources needed to rebuild our broken institutions.

On October 10, Sonny will join the roundtable at our annual benefit, Democracy Fights Back, to share ideas about how innovation can advance accountability, transparency, and social justice in Chicago.

Get tickets

Read Sonny’s op-ed in Crain’s Chicago about civic leadership and accountability:
Are Chicago's civic leaders helping or harming the city? Here's what Sonny Garg, who has served on the boards of more than a half-dozen nonprofits, writes:

How civic leaders like me have failed Chicago

Our city's institutions are broken. If we rethink what it means to be a "civic leader," we just might contribute to rebuilding their legitimacy for all of us.

CHICAGOBUSINESS.COM
What does entrepreneurship have to do with civil rights? Meet Sonny Garg at our annual benefit on October 10

Copyright © 2017 Chicago Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights Under Law, Inc., All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.