Join us to Bring Justice Home to all neighborhoods in our city and region.

With your support, we can disrupt Chicago’s long history of segregation and racial disparities. Together we will fight and win equity and fairness in housing, education, voting, public safety, and community economic development.

Two weeks from today, former HUD Secretary Julián Castro will take the stage at our annual benefit: Bring Justice Home.

Secretary Castro tells his incredible life story in a forthcoming memoir, tracing how the son of unmarried parents in a poverty-stricken neighborhood of a struggling city rose to become the mayor of San Antonio and Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

An Unlikely Journey: Waking Up from My American Dream is due to be released in October.
We honor Secretary Castro for his candid and compelling leadership to put race and poverty at the forefront of the national discourse.

Join us on Tuesday, October 2 for Bring Justice Home to celebrate Secretary Castro, and to honor rising leaders in Chicago who are answering the call to make real our vision for racial equity and economic opportunity for all.

Questions? Contact Stefanie Skaggs at 312.202.3651 or SSkaggs@clccrul.org