The 14 Best New Restaurants of 2015 in NYC

AD is celebrating end of the year with a look back at 2015's best design. You'll find our favorite products, including appliances, lighting, books, technology, and more. We've also rounded-up hotels, restaurants, and shops with standout decor, from London to New York.

Chef Gabriel Kreuther—who left his post at the Michelin-starred Modern at MoMA early last year—opened his first restaurant, across from Bryant Park in Manhattan's Grace Building. The eponymous locale, designed by Glen & Co. Architecture, reflects Kreuther's French heritage. Gabriel Kreuther, 41 West 42nd Street;
