Personal data

Orphazyme’s use of cookies may include processing of your personal data and we therefore recommend that you also read our privacy policy. The privacy policy describes our processing of personal data and your rights.

Consent

Apart from necessary cookies, no cookies will be placed on your computer, tablet, smartphone or other electronic device (together “device”) unless you have explicitly consented to the use of cookies on our Website.

What are cookies and which do we use?

Cookies are small text files that are stored on your device when you visit our Website and these files render it possible to collect information about which pages are visited and which features are used. Cookies cannot spread computer viruses.

Cookies are used by Orphazyme and third parties. We use “session cookies” which are temporary cookies that are deleted automatically when you close your device/web browser. We also use "persistent cookies” which are permanent cookies that will be stored on your device. Persistent cookies delete themselves after a certain time but will be renewed every time you visit the Website.

We may also use the following types of cookies:

“Analytics cookies” monitor how you have reached the Website, and how you interact with and move around once on the Website. These cookies let us know what features on the Website are working the best and what features on the Website can be improved.

"Personalization cookies” are used to recognize repeat visitors to the Website. We use these cookies to record your browsing history, the pages you have visited, and your settings and preferences each time you visit the Website.

"Security cookies” help identify and prevent security risks. We use these cookies to authenticate users and protect user data from unauthorized parties.

"Website management cookies” are used to maintain your identity or session on the Website so that you are not logged off unexpectedly, and any information you enter is retained from page to page. These cookies cannot be turned off individually, but you can disable all cookies in your browser.

"Third-party cookies” may be place on your computer when you visit the Website by companies that run certain services we offer. These cookies allow the third parties to gather and track certain information about you. These cookies can be manually disabled in your browser.

Why do we use cookies?

Cookies are used to remember your settings, maximize user-friendliness and improve functionality, traffic measurement and track your use of our Website and the pages you visit. Cookies help us understand how our Website is being used and improve your user experience.
How to delete or block cookies?

You may withdraw or change your consent by blocking cookies in your web browser. However, if you delete or block cookies on your device the Website may not function properly and certain features cannot be used. If you are using multiple browsers and devices you will have to withdraw or block in all of them.

Updates to Cookie Policy

We reserve the right to make changes to this Cookie Policy at any time and for any reason. We will alert you about any changes by updating the "Last Updated" date of this Cookie Policy. Any changes or modifications will be effective immediately upon posting the updated Cookie Policy on the Website, and you waive the right to receive specific notice of each such change or modification.

You are encouraged to periodically review this Cookie Policy to stay informed of updates. You will be deemed to have been made aware of, will be subject to, and will be deemed to have accepted the changes in any revised Cookie Policy by your continued use of the Website after the date such revised Cookie Policy is posted.
