The Time is Now

The success of the Legacy Project centers on unique oral histories, however with the passage of time, these stories will become lost or obscured so we need to act now.

The Legacy Project will create an accurate and lively record of the past while memories are still strong. It is vitally important that we preserve the example set by community leaders like "Prof" Jones to inspire children and adults alike to realize their full potential.

The Capital Campaign

Before we can start construction, funding is urgently needed so that plans can be developed for exhibits and for converting the Jones family house into the A. Quinn Jones Museum.

The CRA has initiated a Capital Campaign to raise the initial funding goal of $400,000. The project needs your pledge in order to reach this goal and realize the project vision.
