DOUGLAS TAIT

1997 – PRESENT

Principal & Creative Director

TaitDesign® Everything Communicates®

Douglas Tait, Inc.

Communications Design

Consistent branding, flexible messaging and compelling design move audiences while bolstering brand recognition and loyalty. The results are measured in increased awareness, value and engagement.

As a communications design consultant, I work with corporate and non-profit institutions to analyze and evaluate brand effectiveness and to identify opportunities for maximizing the strength of a brand. It's this coherent method of auditing trademarks, service marks, hierarchy relationships, websites, social media, reports, publications and other pertinent communications tools that allow the insight required to affect positive change and provide pathways for successful outcomes.

Additionally, I design effective communications products – from financial reports to social media marketing – which are vital to organizations of all sizes and missions. These require unique, compelling, consistent, and passionate expression based on brand strength and concise brand guidelines.

I earn my clients trust through my commitment to quality, efficiency, and taking accountability for project results. When collaborating with client communications teams, it's my knowledge of design principles, commitment to excellence, currency with design technology, methodical organization skills, and the best practices for production that enable powerful products and initiatives to be realized.

It's my creative and practical approach that reinforce advancement of client organizations' missions and brand strength – heightening or fostering – its continued success.
