The United States has LESS THAN 1/6 THE NUMBER OF HEADACHE DOCTORS IT NEEDS.

Without enough doctors, headache patients MUST WAIT WEEKS OR MONTHS FOR AN APPOINTMENT.

- Attacks Become Chronic
- Symptoms Worsen
- Improper Treatment Leads To Opioid Use Disorders
- ER Visits Become Necessary

INCREASING FELLOWSHIPS IN HEADACHE MEDICINE can expand the physician workforce that treats headache patients.

HELP HEADACHE PATIENTS GET THE TREATMENT THEY NEED.

Amend H.R.3414 / S.2892 to ensure federal funding of approved headache fellowships.
A headache doctor is defined as a physician certified in the field of Headache Medicine by the United Council for Neurologic Subspecialties (UCNS).

An approved headache fellowship is a fellowship program in Headache Medicine accredited by the UCNS.
